HUNAN UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

Hunan University of Technology 2026 International Student Prospectus

1 Introduction to HUT

Who We Are

Hunan University of Technology (HUT) was founded in 1958. We are a key provincial university located in Zhuzhou, known as “China’s Engine Valley” – a world-class rail technology hub and a center for aviation power and advanced hard materials.

We do not just offer a degree. We help you build a real career. Join HUT, start your journey, and Change Your Life!

Why Choose HUT

Strong in Science and Engineering – HUT is the first Chinese member of IAPRI, a global leader in packaging technology. We have four ESI top 1% disciplines: Materials Science, Chemistry, Engineering, and Environmental/Ecology.

English-Taught Programs – These are our priority for international students. Key programs include Computer Science and Technology, International Economy and Trade, Mechanical Design, Manufacturing and Automation, as well as Civil Engineering and Architecture.

Job-Focused Education – Many of our graduates are hired by high-tech companies in China and beyond. Many return to their home countries as engineers, managers, or business owners.

A Large and Welcoming Campus – With over 45,000 students, 3,800+ acres, and partnerships with 50 universities worldwide (including Dresden University of Technology and University of Arizona), you will find many opportunities to grow.

Where We Are

Zhuzhou is located in eastern Hunan Province, at the heart of the Yangtze River middle reaches urban agglomeration. It has given birth to more than 340 “Firsts” in China’s industrial history – including the first electric locomotive, the first aero engine, the first air-to-air missile, and the first piece of hard alloy. This is not just history. Today, high-tech industries are booming here, offering countless opportunities for engineers and innovators.

A City That Welcomes You

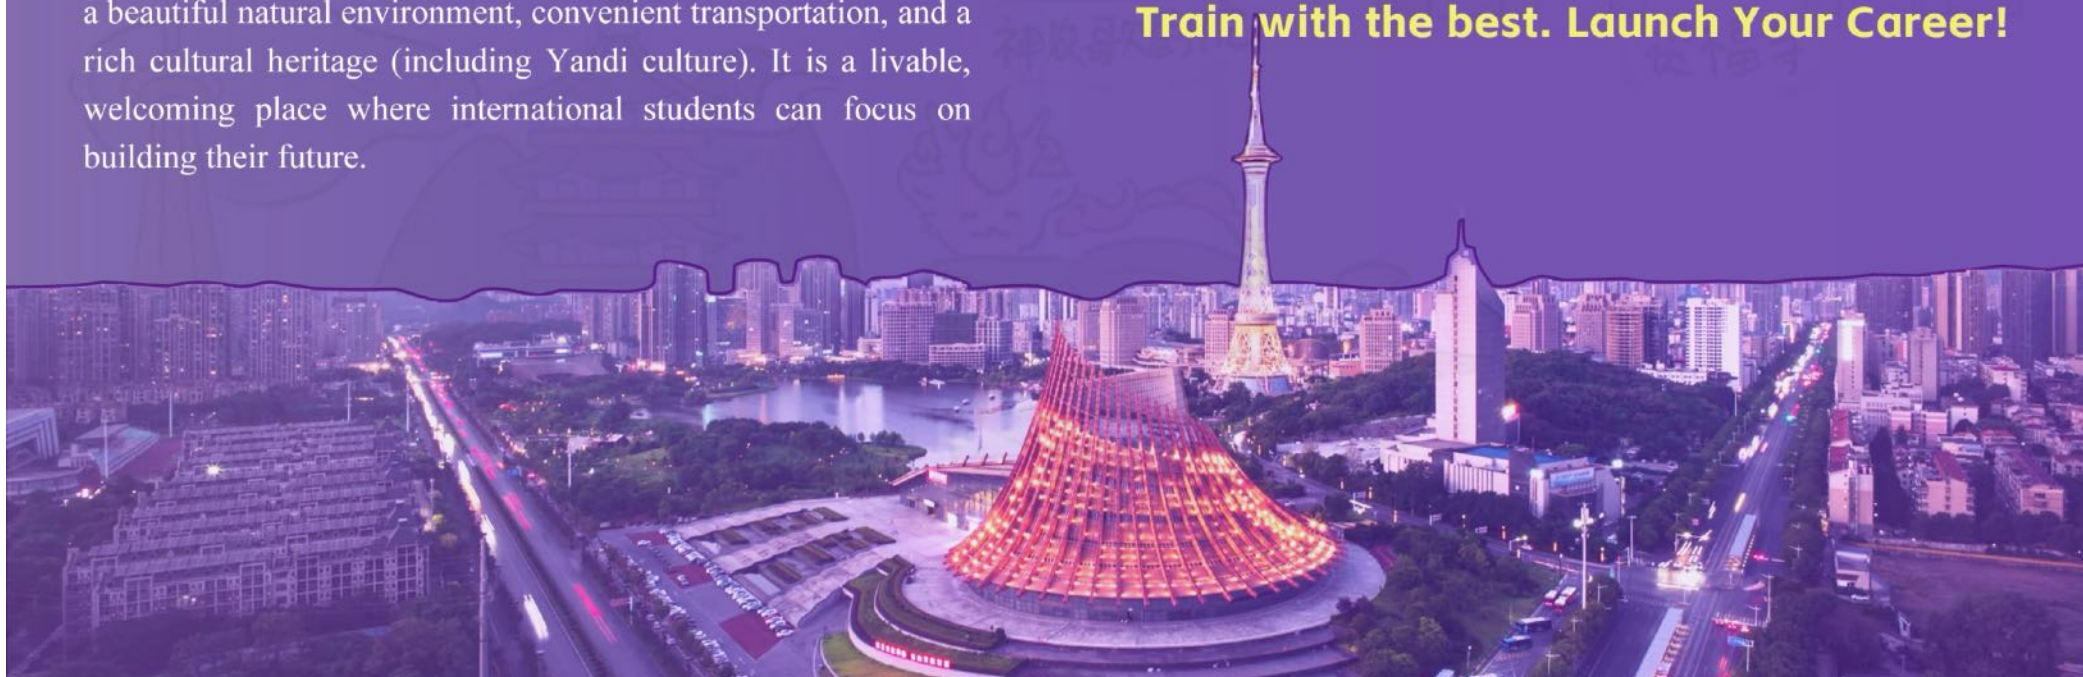

Beyond industry, Zhuzhou is also a National Greening City with a beautiful natural environment, convenient transportation, and a rich cultural heritage (including Yandi culture). It is a livable, welcoming place where international students can focus on building their future.

Your Advantage at HUT

At HUT, we turn Zhuzhou’s industrial strength into your advantage. Through strong industry-university-research collaboration, our teaching is deeply integrated with local leading enterprises. You will have access to real projects, internships, and mentors from companies that lead the world in rail transit, new materials, and smart manufacturing. This means you don’t just learn theory – you gain hands-on experience that makes you highly employable.

Come to Zhuzhou.

Train with the best. Launch Your Career!
